

Hurstville Museum & Gallery at home Exploring historical households (Stage 1 & 2)

Household objects are a great source of information about family life in the past. The activities below are designed to guide students exploration of historical objects from the Hurstville Museum & Gallery collection, providing them with skills to identify and compare objects from the past and present, and discuss how they relate to their own lives.

Students will explore two primary sources. A primary source is something that has been created or written during the time period being investigated.

Activity 1: Investigating primary sources

This is a picture of a household object from Hurstville Museum & Gallery's collection. Lots of families used objects like this in the past.

By looking closely at the object and asking questions, we can discover a lot of information about the object. Use the following questions to guide discussion about the object:

- What is the object made from? (metal, wood)
- What shape is the object? (Barrel shaped)
- What interesting features does it have? (metal barrel with the word 'Lehmann' on it, metal and wooden handle.)

Have you worked out what it is? Sometime just looking at the object alone does not provide enough information to figure out what the object is.

In the next activity we will explore a different primary source that will give us more information about the object

Activity 2: Finding out more

This is an extract from a newspaper article, published in the West Australian newspaper in 1946. This source can be found at Trove (https://trove.nla.gov.au), a website that provides public access to historic images, newspapers, maps and more.

Do you see something familiar in this newspaper extract? Look closely at this source and think about the following questions. Make sure you look at the picture as well as the text:

- What extra information does it give you about the object?
- Using both sources, explain how the object works
- What type of source is this?

To discover more detailed information about this object, visit the Hurstville Museum & Gallery's collection online at:

https://ehive.com/collections/9106/objects/1026904/lehmann-washingmachine

Extension activity:

Follow the link above to read more about the object and discuss the following

- What new feature did this washing machine have that made doing the laundry easier for people in the 1930s and 1940s?
- What new technology came next that made doing the laundry even easier?

Advertisement from the West Australian newspaper, Wednesday 16 November 1949, page 19 (http://nla.gov.au/nla.news-page3852103)

Pickworth Defeated In Victorian Match

defeat of the title-holder, H. (Ossie) Pickworth, 2 and 1 to of Eric Cremin in beating Graeme Cates 12 and 11 were features of the first round of match-play in Uterarian professional golf Pickworth inished the morning round in 73 to be four up. He still led three up at the 27th. Then Harris turned on the fire-works. He won six holes in a row with 3, 3, 3, 4, 4, 3, com-prising three birdies and three prising three birdes and three pars. Pickworth's scores at these holes were 4, 4, 4, 5, 5, 4—three pars and one over at each of the other three holes. Pickworth won the 34th with a four to Harris's five, but Harris haived the neat with a four to win two and one. "I hope it want a dream," I harris said when Pickworth congratulated him. It was the first time that he had beaten Pickworth. He is 25 and is professional attached to a sports store in Melbourne. He needed only a four at the 36th to equal Cremin's record of 33 for the nine holes at Yarra Yarra.

holes at Yarra Yarra.

Cremin was five under fours for the 25 holes in which he beat Graeme Cates, the Ballarat professional. It was one of the easies wins seen in a professional golf-championship for many years. Cremin went out in the morning in 31 to be six up and came home in 36 to be nine up. Par for each nine is 37. Cates won only two holes, both in the morning round—the IIth, where Cremin pulled his drive into some trees. "Cremin found the 14th, where Cremin pulled his drive into some trees. "Cremin has the title as good as won." his drive into some trees. "Cremin has the title as good as won.

Championship Draw

(By "PUTTER.")

fessional golf championship played at Royal Perth, con ing on November 30 is as f Martin Smith (Vic.) v N. B

This is a good draw from the spectators' point of view as every round promises at least two hardfought matches, and the players cannot meet uni semi-final and finals.

Activity 3: Then and now

Find an object in your house that does the same job as this object and compare them.

- What is similar?
- What is different?
- Does the modern object in your home make housework easier? How?

Thanks for using this resource produced by Hurstville Museum & Gallery, Georges River Council.

Please let us know if you found it useful:

Email: museumgallery@georgesriver.nsw.gov.au

Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/hurstvillemuseumgallery Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/hurstvillemuseumgallery

Blog: https://hurstvillemuseumgallery.wordpress.com