

Georges River Council

Carss Park Artist in Residence Program 2018-2020

Guidelines

Introduction

Georges River Council's Carss Park Artist in Residence program is open to artists, writers and performers across all media.

The Carss Park Artist's Cottage, with a view over the Georges River and Carss Park, is a quiet, creative studio and accommodation for one artist designed to support the professional development of local and visiting artists.

Artists may apply to live and work in the cottage for a nominated period. The artist will be provided with accommodation and a studio space in the cottage. As a self-funded residency, the cost of general living expenses, art materials and housekeeping of the property is the responsibility of the artist.

Objectives of the Program

The Artist in Residence Program supports cultural development in the Georges River local government area by providing a creative space for a range of local, regional and national artists and to contribute to Council's culturally rich arts programs through workshops and exhibitions.

The Program will facilitate cultural activity and foster connections and interactions between people, introducing new artists, experiences and opportunities to the Georges River community.

The objectives of the Artist in Residence program are:

- Artists' professional development – for local and visiting artists.
- Collection development and cultural programing – artists will make a contribution in kind through donating artwork, giving workshops, performances or other cultural capital.
- To be a valuable resource and asset for Council and the community – fostering cultural activity through the programs, activities, opportunities, artworks, experiences and artists the program attracts
- To contribute to the cultural profile of the Georges River Council area – through reputation and promotion of the program, partnerships with other arts organisations and the creation of artwork inspired by and acknowledging this area.

About Carss Park Artist's Cottage

The Carss Park Artist's Cottage is a one-bedroom furnished house overlooking the Georges River, and was formerly the Carss Park Ranger's Cottage. It has a kitchen, bathroom, dining area, living area, laundry, balcony and rear garden, and a large studio. The studio space has protective flooring, is well lit, and includes a desk, chair, easel, shelving and an equipment trolley. There is a lockable outdoor storage area. The house is comfortably furnished and equipped with towels and linen, basic kitchen equipment, utensils and washing machine and dryer.

The Cottage is in the Carss Bush Park, on the edges of a suburban area. Applicants should be aware it is quite isolated. Artists may park in public car-parking areas close to the cottage, and buses stop nearby. The closest shopping centres are at Kogarah, Allawah and South Hurstville, with local shops and cafes at Carss Park. Due to the heritage of the building, the residence is not currently wheelchair accessible. Council encourages residencies from artists with a range of diverse abilities. Applicants are requested to outline any access requirements they may have on their application (eg extra accommodation for a support worker, etc).

Concept of Work

In their application, artists should outline the concept of work they plan to undertake during their residency. This should include details of the art-form, medium and other information which clearly describes the artist's intention for the work they wish to undertake during the residency. As the Program aims to contribute to an artist's professional development, applicants should demonstrate that they have a well-developed plan that will make the most of the opportunity the residency provides.

Community contribution

Artists are asked to propose a community contribution in their application. Successful applicants will then meet with the Cultural Services team and reach an agreement about the nature and extent of the contribution, whether it be a workshop, program, donation of an artwork, or other format. The community contribution is one aspect of the Program and is not expected to take considerable time away from the artist's own creative work time. These details will be recorded in the contractual agreement between the artist and Council.

Council may provide in-kind support such as promotion, venue hire, project and event management and assistance with installation for the program/s as agreed. The Cultural Services team also has an annual budget to allocate at Council's discretion for facilitation of workshops, exhibitions, events or community programs.

Artists should prepare and bring equipment and materials particular to their art form as required for their agreed programs.

Selection Process

The Artist in Residence Program is targeted to artists working in different art-forms at different career stages. A selection panel consisting of the General Manager as Chair (or delegated representative), the Manager Community and Cultural Development, the Coordinator Cultural Services, the Cultural Development Officer and an independent representative from the arts community, will be formed. The selection panel will consider each application on its own merit. The panel will assess how each applicant's art-form, proposed concept and contribution fits within Council's cultural programming to aim to offer a diverse range of experiences and opportunities to the community.

Applications will be assessed by a selection panel against the following criteria:

- Artist's proposed concept of work to be completed during the residency
- Artist's proposed contribution to Georges River cultural life, and that it is realistic, affordable, achievable and measurable
- Value of the residency to the artist's professional development
- Value of the residency to Georges River local government area's cultural profile
- Quality of application and support material
